RAINFALL INDEX DISCLAIMER

By signing below, I certify that I understand the following.

1. The Rainfall Index plan of insurance is not a plan of insurance against a loss of actual production. The terms and conditions of the Rainfall Index are different from those of an Actual Production History plan of insurance. The Rainfall Index plan of insurance does not measure, capture, or utilize the actual crop production of any producer or any of the actual crop production within the grid, county or state. It is based upon grid indices, not individual farm yields.
2. Selecting index intervals when precipitation is not needed for the insured crop or when precipitation does not normally occur is not an effective use of the Rainfall Index plan of insurance.
3. The Rainfall Index is a risk management tool to insure against a decline in an index value that is based on the long-term historical average precipitation for the grid and index interval. It is best suited for producers whose production tends to follow and correlate to the historical average interpolated precipitation patterns for the grid.
4. It is possible for me to have low crop production or receive low precipitation amounts for the acreage I insure and still not receive an indemnity payment under this plan.
5. The only insurable cause of loss is having a final grid index less than my trigger grid index.
6. There are historical indices, information, and other tools on the RMA web site to help me determine if the Rainfall Index is suitable for my risk management needs.

VEGETATION INDEX DISCLAIMER

By Signing below, I certify that I understand the following.

1. The Vegetation Index plan of insurance is not a plan of insurance against a loss of actual production. The terms and conditions of the Vegetation Index are different from those of an Actual Production History plan of insurance. The Vegetation Index plan of insurance does not measure, capture, or utilize the actual crop production of any producer or any of the actual production within the grid, county or state. It is based upon grid indices, not individual farm yields.
2. Selecting index intervals when vegetative growth does not normally occur or is not needed is not an effective use of the Vegetation Index plan of insurance.
3. The Vegetation Index is a risk management tool to insure against a decline, caused by natural occurrences, in an index value that is based on the long-term historical average for the grid and index interval. It is best suited for producers whose past production correlates with the historical average vegetation index patterns for the grid.
4. It is possible for me to have low crop production on the acreage I insure and still not receive an indemnity payment under this plan.
5. The only insurable cause of loss is having a final grid index less than my trigger grid index that is due to natural causes.
6. There are historical indices, information, and other tools on the RMA web site to help me determine if the Vegetation Index is suitable for my risk management needs.
